Siboniso Nonzala

I am a young man filled with vigor and an eagerness to prove myself and make a mark in the world. I may not have had ample educational opportunities, but I never let that discourage me or distract me from my ambitions. I am not afraid of hard work, take instructions well, am a supportive team player, and am always willing to take the lead when required.

My skills include but are not limited to giving great customer service and dealing with disgruntled customers. I also have an eye for detail, colour conditions, and styling.
